Tim and Andrea, I know most of the focus is appropriately on getting 9 off the ground in 2021, but I think I recall that some critical technical and financial decisions about how to structure 10 need to be made this spring. With that in mind, can we huddle for 30 minutes at your convenience so I can get back up to speed on the timing of those decisions and the range of decision options being considered? RE: Yakima Plan update meeting - January 31, 2018 2:00 - 2:30 PM with Dr.

Travnicek This is a follow-up to my voice mail requesting a meeting with Dr. Travnicek on January 31st at 2:00 PM for a short update meeting on the Bureau of Reclamation's Yakima Plan and ESA - environmental concerns. Besides myself, Chris Maykut, Seattle (Friends of Bumping Lake) and David Conrad (WA D.C.) would also attend (I've included their emails above). BRIEF BACKGROUND I helped write the Yakima River Basin Water Enhancement Project bill that passed Congress in 1979. Recently, the Bureau of Reclamation has resurrected old dam proposals include a dam on the Bumping River within the Okanogan-Wenatchee National Forest and a Wymer Dam between Ellensburg and Yakima, Washington. For background see: http://www.washington.sierraclub.org/uppercol/ucr/yakima/media/Entries/2013/2/15_The_Other_Side_of_the_Story_Yakima_Water_Plan_1.html In 2013, the Washington State Legislature passed the 2013 Capital Budget (ESSB 5035), Section 5057: (1) The appropriation in this section is provided solely for the state of Washington water research center to prepare separate benefit-cost analyses for each of the projects proposed in the 2012 Yakima river basin integrated water resources management plan (Yakima integrated plan), as listed in subsection (7) of this section. This section was added because the Bureau of Reclamation's claims and benefit/cost analysis (the aggregate four-accounts) of over $7 billion of fishery benefits from the Yakima Plan did not appear credible. The Washington Water Research Center submitted its benefit-cost analysis on December 15, 2014, and concluded that none of the Yakima Plan's water storage projects had a positive benefit/cost ratio. https://wrc.wsu.edu/documents/2014/12/ybip_bca_swwrc_dec2014.pdf In summary, it would not be fiscally responsible for the Administration to continue project funding for the Yakima Plan. Jan 23, 2018 - [RESCHEDULED] Good morning, Today's Town Hall Meeting with Secretary Zinke has been postponed until Thursday, Feb. 1 at 2:00 p.m EST. The Town Hall will be webcast live, but staff with offices in the Udall Main Interior Building are strongly encouraged to attend the event in the Sidney Yates Auditorium, to prevent network congestion. For those who can't attend, the event will be streamed at www.doi.gov/events. Please send your questions for the Secretary to reorg@doi.gov, no later than COB Tuesday, Jan. 30. See you then! - - - After a year in office, I can tell you that Secretary of the Interior is a wonderful, challenging, and fulfilling job. The beauty and importance of our public lands cannot be overstated and serving as their chief steward is a responsibility I take seriously. From protecting our national treasures to thoughtfully managing our natural resources, the dedicated men and women of the Department are outstanding public servants. I'm proud to work with all of you. In 2017, we increased access to public lands for millions of sportsmen and women, restored trust with citizens and local leaders, and provided regulatory relief that put our Nation on the road to energy dominance. We forged strong relationships with tribal communities, developed innovative solutions to water challenges, promoted traditional uses of public lands, and ensured that Theodore Roosevelt's conservation ethic lives on. I am proud of all we have accomplished for the benefit of the American people and excited to do even more. My top priority for 2018 is to reshape the Department in a way that offers a better conservation stewardship model for the next 100 years. By reducing redundancy and administrative barriers, we will share resources more efficiently, improve coordination, and empower the frontlines to better serve our Nation and our citizens. Last week, I hosted senior Interior leaders from across the country for brainstorming sessions here in Washington, D.C. to discuss our ideas to reorganize the Department and plan for our future. I want to share with you some of the ideas that came out of those sessions and next steps, as well as reflect on what we accomplished together in 2017, and our goals for 2018. I also want to hear about any ideas, concerns, or observations you have. So next Tuesday, January 23, at 2:00 pm, please join me for a Town Hall Meeting. You may attend the event in the Sidney Yates Auditorium at the Main Interior Building in Washington, or be part of the discussion online at www.doi.gov/events. Sincerely, Secretary Zinke

Description:

Michelle: First, This email is to confirm with you that a delegation from the Columbia River Inter-Tribal Fish Commission will meet with Deputy Asst Secretary Andrea Trevniecek on at 10:30 am on Thursday, February 8th. Tribal leaders appreciated the opportunity to have an initial meeting with Dr. Trevniecek last September, they would like to continue the conversation with her regarding the Columbia River Treaty negotiations, the tribes participation in those negotiations and developing a government-to-government consultation framework so the tribes can work with collaboratively as part of the U.S. delegation to the negotiations. The following tribal leaders are in this delegation: Casey Mitchell, Secretary, Nez Perce Tribal Executive Committee (NPTEC) and CRITFC Chairman Leland Bill, Yakama Nation CRITFC Treasurer Jonathan Smith, Warm Springs Fish and Wildlife Committee. They will be supported by Jaime Pinkham, the Commission's Executive Director, Charles Hudson, the Commission's Director for Intergovernmental Affairs and me. I've included this link to the page on Commission's website which provides an overview about the tribes' treaties with the U.S.: https://www.critfc.org/member_tribes_overview/treaty-q-a/Second, I spoke with Dr. Travnicek about setting up a webinar session so that the technical work group for the 15 Columbia Basin tribes can provide her with a briefing on the tribes modeling efforts on integrating ecosystem-based function, including fish passage and reintroduction, into a modernized Columbia River Treaty with Canada. This webinar briefing session would require a one and a half (1.5) hour time block. Can you suggest a few days over the next few weeks that would allow for a webinar session for 1.5 hour technical briefing session? Because of the time difference, I think we would be looking at an afternoon session. I've attached the materials that the tribes' technical work group used to brief Jill Smail, the Chief Negotiator at the State Department for the Columbia River Treaty. Additional background materials can be found here: <https://www.critfc.org/tribal-treaty-fishing-rights/policy-support/columbia-river-treaty/definition-of-ecosystem-based-function/> Please let me if you have any questions or if you would like any additional materials in advance of the meeting. On Feb 15, 2018, at 1:49 PM, Janie Thompson <jthompson@cassidy.com> wrote:
Dr. Travnicek, I work for Ormat, the geothermal company out of Reno. Ormat is in the process of expanding a power plant on BLM lands in Mammoth, CA and in so doing, is working with USGS to instrument new wells for groundwater monitoring. See the attached Groundwater Monitoring Plans. The NEPA process is complete and all the necessary permits have been issued, but local water officials in Mono County still contend that the Casa Diablo IV project threatens local groundwater supplies. Unfortunately one local USGS official has made a number of public statements in support of the MCWD's position, making claims about the integrity of the subsurface that haven't been peer-reviewed or otherwise substantiated by USGS. This has become especially problematic as the local water district continues to seek resolution in the courts. Paul Thomsen from Ormat will be in DC on Friday, February 23 on another matter, and we were hoping to be able to walk through this issue with you then. We could also go through how the geothermal industry works with USGS in general (usually it's a positive engagement and we want to continue to be good partners). Are you and/or any of your appropriate colleagues free that day 8:30-10:30 am or 12:30-3 pm for a brief conversation? I also dropped a line to Don Cline but believe he is traveling that day. Many thanks, Janie Thompson

From: Mike Cuffe [mailto:mcuffe@interbel.net] Sent: Thursday, February 22, 2018 12:40 PM To: andrea_travnicek@ios.doi.gov; 'michelle_browm@ios.doi.gov' Subject: Possible visit Monday Feb. 26? Andrea, Some folks from PNWER, Pacific NorthWest Economic Region, hope to meet with you early on Monday, Feb. 26. We see CRT Negotiator Jill Smail at DOS at 10:30 am so need time to get there, but are free earlier Monday. The PNWER group would include CEO Matt Morrison, Project Manager Steve Myers and myself, Rep. Mike Cuffe from Montana. PNWER is a non-profit association including Alaska, Montana Oregon, Washington, Idaho, British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Yukon, and NorthWest Territories. It has the "Gold Standard reputation" regarding relations between the two countries. Discussion would center on selenium, Kootenai River, and Lake Koocanusa as well as similar concerns between BC and Alaska, and possibly something in Washington state, although I don't have anything specific on that. Hoping to see you Monday, Rep. Mike Cuffe 1-406-293-1247

Tim, Thank you for your help on the Independence Hall Visitor Center donor recognition issue. While progress was made initially to bring NPS to the table with a draft plan, the donation levels associated with the NPS draft are out of line with the market and we seem to be stuck yet again. Attached is a brief study that was commissioned to show that the proposed Bank of America donation for the second floor terrace of the new visitor center is consistent with the overall market for these type of interior naming rights. I also included a marked up version of the draft Donor Recognition Plan that reflects the changes that the IVCC would like to make to bring the donation levels to a point that are realistic and achievable. As you know, there is no attempt to secure naming rights for Independence National Historical Park as a whole, but rather interior portions of one building in the Park. There will be no outside signage. Thank you for your continued support and am happy to discuss in greater detail at your convenience. POC: Alison Cricks Chief of Staff Carmen Group Inc. It sure would be nice to be able to share my insights, data and analysis that highlight some of my concerns with the accuracy and objectivity of the work done to date with the team conducting this review. Yes, I'm still working away in my role as citizen advocate to help keep track of the BuRec and WA Dept. of Ecology as they continue to push for the Yakima Basin Integrated Plan. I know you recently connected with some of our representatives so thanks for that. On my end, I have continued to refine my economic and hydrological analysis of the YBIP and the story does not get any more attractive. Benefits continue to be significantly overstated and misrepresented and the economics are washed aside other than the broad assertion that the Plan helps family farms. No mention of at what cost. Description:

Good afternoon, Michelle. As discussed on the phone, we would like Mr. Petty to address Reclamation's FY20 Budget Review Committee (BRC) either March 19th or 20th. Reclamation uses the BRC - an internal committee of senior leaders - to lead its program and budget formulation process on an annual basis. We would like Mr. Petty to spend 15-20 minutes addressing the committee and highlighting any Departmental priorities he thinks the committee members should consider. While I'm new to this process myself, I believe we have asked his predecessors to do the same in previous years. The BRC is scheduled to meet in the Muir room the entire week of the 19th. Please let me know if you need any additional information. Trace

Description:

Hi Michelle. I am hoping you are the right contact for this request. My name is Steve Wolff and I serve as the Chairman of the Management Committee for the Upper Colorado River Endangered Fish Recovery Program. Every March the non-federal participants of this program along with the San Juan River Fish Recovery Program travel to Washington to meet with our delegation members, congressional committees, and federal agencies. We have appreciated our meetings with staff from the Department of Interior and Reclamation over the years. We would like to meet with the appropriate DOI and Bureau of Reclamation staff again to provide an update on our programs progress and the importance of these programs to the states of Utah, Colorado, Wyoming, New Mexico as well as Native American Tribes, water users, hydro power customers and others. Historically we have met with the Assistant Secretary for Water & Science as well as the Commissioner for the Bureau of Reclamation and their staffs. We will have a representative of most of the entities listed above on our trip. We plan to be in the DOI building on Thursday morning (March 22) and wondered if we could meet with Dr. Petty, Ms. Burman and/or other appropriate staff on that day. We are hoping for a 30-45 minute timeframe. We are starting out with a draft agenda that will likely change based on staff availability for that day. We would be happy to meet anytime during the morning of Thursday, March 22. Please let me know if that time would work for or if there is a better time that day. Over the past few years, FMC has briefed officials who work on international trade issues at the Department of Commerce about the lithium industry in light of the increasing importance of lithium to domestic manufacturing, including energy storage. FMC has not yet briefed anyone at the Department of the Interior. Given the responsibilities of the United States Geological Survey under President Trump's Executive Order and Secretary Zinke's Secretarial Order addressing critical minerals reserves and development, FMC thought it would be helpful to talk to you about its operations and activities both in the United States and globally. Tom Schneberger, Vice President of FMC Lithium, would come down from Philadelphia for the meeting.

Ms. Brown: As we discussed this morning, I am writing to request a visit with the Assistant Secretary and representatives of FreeportMcMoRan, an Arizona-based mining company with an interest in their organization effort currently underway at the Department of the Interior. They will be in DC Tuesday April 3, and they would be greatly appreciative of some time with you to discuss their perspective on the relationship of the states and the watersheds, particularly the Lower Colorado River Basin. We know that the Assistant Secretary understands the importance of the project and how it pertains to watersheds in the Pacific Northwest, and my clients would like to brief him on some of the issues in the Southwest. We are also visiting with Susan Combs at 9A on April 3, and perhaps there might be a convenient time afterward for Dr. Petty. Thank you for your assistance with this request. L. This briefing was requested by Abbey Reller with Sen. Barrasso's office on Reclamation's efforts to comply with the yet-to-be-enacted Transparency Act. At the hearing you mentioned a list of deferred maintenance sites. If that exists, I would certainly be interested in knowing about that as well. But my understanding is that there are new practices in place to review and report deferred maintenance. I am interested in knowing more about those practices. As I understand, they are to be published in the Agency Financial report. I could not tell if there were numbers included in the last one that reflected DM. Tim's testimony references the following things I would like to know about: Infrastructure Investment Strategy, Asset Management Report - The only thing I see online is the FY2012 report, Major Rehabilitation and Replacements (MR&R) database 1- (b) (5) Participant Code: (b) (5)

Holland & Hart represents FMC Lithium. <http://www.fmclithium.com/> FMC is the third largest lithium producer in the world and the only fully integrated lithium production company in the United States (located in Bessemer City, NC). Over the past few years, FMC has briefed officials who work on international trade issues at the Department of Commerce about the lithium industry in light of the increasing importance of lithium to domestic manufacturing, including energy storage. FMC has not yet briefed anyone at the Department of the Interior. Given the responsibilities of the United States Geological Survey under President Trump's Executive Order and Secretary Zinke's Secretarial Order addressing critical minerals reserves and development, FMC thought it would be helpful to talk to you about its operations and activities both in the United States and globally. Tom Schneberger, Vice President of FMC Lithium, and one other government affairs staffer would come down from Philadelphia for the meeting. Contact: Kelly A. Johnson Holland & Hart LLP 975 F St., NW Suite 900 Washington, DC 20004 Phone: (202) 654-6933 E-mail: kajohnson@hollandhart.com

They would appreciate the opportunity to introduce themselves and discuss the future of federal water programs run by the Department of Interior through the Bureau of Reclamation. IEUA is a regional wastewater treatment agency and wholesale distributor of imported water. Today, they serve approximately 875,000 people over 242 square miles in western San Bernardino County, California. The Agency is focused on treating wastewater, developing recycled water, local water resources, and conservation programs to reduce the region's dependence on imported water supplies enabling the service area to become drought-resilient; converting biosolids and waste products into a high-quality compost made from recycled materials; and generating electrical energy from renewable sources. IEUA has been a trusted partner of the Bureau of Reclamation through multiple Title XVI authorizations and grants. In addition, they have been the recipients of several WaterSmart grants and other critical funding opportunities. RE: Discuss water infrastructure. There were several big CA water storage projects that were line item funded in the omnibus. We are also dealing with water pumping/allocations for the Central Valley for our ag folks. In general, we want to explore where opportunities are to work with our federal counterparts on CA water for the the Valley. Hi Michelle, California Assemblyman Vince Fong will be in DC April 26-27 (Thurs-Fri). Wanted to see if we can sit down with staff to discuss CA water/infrastructure issues. By way of background, Assemblyman Fong was district director for Majority Leader Kevin McCarthy for 10 years before getting elected. We work closely with their office on water issues and had opportunity to sit down with Secretary Zinke when he was in California last month for a meeting with the Governor. Let me know if you need any additional information. Thanks, Michelle! Sam Chung Chief of Staff Office of Assemblyman Vince Fong Office: (916) 319-2034 Cell: (b) (6)
